

What held the Tunisian reform elite together

The 12 schools, mosques, newspapers and societies that appear in at least 3 of the 38 biographies, and the 27 subjects who passed through them. Node size is degree; the number after each institution is how many of the 38 it ties. Posts and published works are excluded, because an office is held in turn rather than shared. A separate pair of nodes, unconnected to this component, is not drawn.

Source: Sadok Zmerli, A'lam Tunisiyun (Dar al-Gharb al-Islami, 2000), 38 biographical essays, author's extraction. 866 of 873 ties come from a model pass over the Arabic text; every one quotes its page verbatim, but no gold-standard precision or recall figure exists yet, so counts here are lower bounds of unknown tightness.
