

After 2021 officials were not removed so much as moved down

Of those holding office on the eve of each rupture who took a further post within three years, the share whose new post ranked above, level with, or below the one they held. Each rupture is set against the average of five cohorts from the same era. 1987 and 2011 promoted their survivors; 2021 demoted them, and did so across the state rather than only in the security apparatus.

Rank is the ordinal scale documented in the codebook, from head of service through director to minister; a person holding several posts is placed at the highest. The figure deliberately reports only those observed twice. The share taking any further post at all fell after 2021 as well (8.5% against 13.1% in ordinary times), but that quantity mixes genuine departure with the gazette's patchy recording of exits and cannot be read as a purge rate. Board memberships are included; excluding them leaves the 2021 gap at +7.0 pp rather than +9.9.
